UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Communist China's delegation to the United Nations takes its seat in the General Assembly today, and 15 nations were on the speakers' list to welcome it.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said Sunday night that the Nixon administration had not decided whether to join the parade of welcoming speakers. Another diplomat expressed belief that it wouldn't if an anti-American tone was manifested during the other speeches.

The Soviet Union gave no indication that its representative would speak, but Czechoslovakia and Romania were listed from the Communist bloc.

Assembly President Adam Malik of Indonesia opens the proceedings with a welcome from the chair. The Chinese respond after all the other speakers.

The 15 nations who by Sunday night had signified their intention to speak all voted on Oct. 25 for the assembly resolution which expelled Nationalist China and replaced it with the Communist regime.

They included Albania, Burundi, Chile, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Italy, Kuwait, Mauritania, the Netherlands, Pakistan, Romania, Tanzania and Zambia.

The prospect was that Peking's representatives would cast their first U.N. vote on a resolution deploring the action of the U.S. Congress last week authorizing resumption of imports of chrome ore from Rhodesia. This will violate the U.N. Security Council embargo on imports from the African country.

That resolution was on the assembly's agenda for the morning. A Soviet proposal for a world disarmament conference was on its afternoon agenda. But both items were sure to be delayed by the welcoming speeches.

Indian Summer Continues in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An interlude of Indian summer continued in Arkansas today. The National Weather Service said a large, warm high pressure system over the southeastern section of the nation was providing the unseasonable warm, humid weather in the state.

A low pressure over eastern Arizona was expected to begin moving toward the east today bringing the possibility of showers to Arkansas by Thursday.

Afternoon highs Sunday ranged from 15 to 20 degrees above normal for this time of year. Texarkana was the warmest spot in the state with 84 degrees. Fayetteville recorded 71 degrees for the lowest maximum.

Overnight lows included 56 at Fayetteville, 53 at Harrison, 50 at Jonesboro, 50 at Pine Bluff, 60 at Texarkana, 57 at El Dorado, 55 at Memphis, 50 at Little Rock and 52 at Fort Smith.

More U.S. Tuna Boats Are Seized by Ecuador

By WILLIAM H. HEATH

Associated Press Writer

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — White House adviser Robert H. Finch met today with President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra in an attempt to resolve the dispute over fishing rights.

Ecuador has seized 39 U.S. tuna boats this year because of a controversy over how far territorial waters should extend.

Finch and Charles A. Meyer, U.S. undersecretary of state for Latin-American affairs, conferred earlier with Foreign Minister Rafael Garcia Velasco.

Others in the U.S. delegation include Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld, surgeon general, and Herbert G. Klein, White House communications director.

After leaving the presidential palace in downtown Quito, the U.S. officials attended the inaugural session of the 11th Pan American Highway Conference.

That meeting, sponsored by the Organization of American States, is being attended by delegates from 21 Latin-American nations.

The high-level U.S. delegation arrived Sunday from Peru for the second stop of a 14-day trip that will take it to Argentina, Honduras and Mexico.

U.S. relations with Ecuador and Peru are frequently strained by seizure and finding of U.S. tuna boats. The vessels are picked up because their owners do not purchase licenses to fish within 200 miles of the coast.

The two nations and Chile claim that their territorial waters extend 200 miles out from shore.

The United States recognizes only a 12-mile limit, and U.S. boats customarily do not ask permission to fish beyond that distance.

The American Tuna Boat Association in San Diego, Calif., says 13 vessels were seized in the past week, including four on Saturday. After Ecuador took 26 boats in the first three months of this year, the Nixon administration cut off sales of military equipment. Ecuador retaliated by expelling the U.S. military mission.

And the Hogs Finally Did Get Going

The signs on the bus tell the story as the Hope High School Band loads up Saturday morning for the trip to Dallas and the Cotton Bowl to see the Arkansas-SMU game. This was one of six busloads of local Razorback fans making the trip. It was almost a long, long trip home but Arkansas pulled it out 18 to 13.

First Pictures of Mars Blurred by Dust Storm

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Mariner 9 spacecraft has sent back 64 more pictures from Mars, but man's first close look at the red planet was blurred by a huge dust storm.

Scientists at California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said that with but one exception the new pictures showed no discernible surface details through the huge dust cloud swirling around Mars.

And they were unable to pick up again a Martian feature photographed by Mariner Friday while the spacecraft was 63,000 miles from Mars.

The picture appeared to show a crater 100 miles wide, with sand dunes radiating out a thousand miles, in Mars' western hemisphere south of the equator.

But scientists said it could also be a picture of turbulence in the atmosphere.

During a 37-minute picture-taking session Sunday in its second orbit of Mars, Mariner passed over the area, but the crater and streamers couldn't be seen.

The dust, if that's what it is, was kicked up in late September when high winds apparently began blowing over Mars.

The one picture with discernible features taken Sunday showed Mars' south polar cap with frozen carbon dioxide. Scientists were elated to discover that the photographed seemed to show a series of ridges first detected in 1969 when Mariners 6 and 7 flew within 2,000 miles of Mars, taking photographs.

The experts wonder whether the carbon dioxide is frozen over mountain ranges, blanketing them as snow blankets mountains on earth, or whether they are ridges in the carbon dioxide.

Mariner 9 will pass over the area later during its 90-day mission and scientists hope for a better look if the dust is gone.

Ground controllers said a six-second burn of the spacecraft's retrorocket at 9:44 p.m. EST today will move it to within 862 miles to Mars at the low point in each orbit, a drop of five miles. This will enable the 210-foot base antenna at Goldstone, Calif., to receive data more efficiently.

Mariner 9 was placed flawlessly into orbit Saturday night with a 15-minute engine firing.

Dr. James Fletcher, National Aeronautics and Space Administration administrator, said Sunday that data Mariner 9 obtains on the dust storm might be useful to the Russians if two Soviet space probes believed near Mars are to attempt an unmanned landing. The Soviets have been silent about their missions, but speculation is that Mars 2 and 3 will attempt soft landings.

There is speculation the dust and wind could interfere with a lander, especially if it used a parachute system.

India Charges Pakistan Is Set to Attack

By MYRON BELKIND

Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's defense minister charged today that Pakistan is poised for an attack on India but Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said her government will wait for mediation from abroad before taking action.

Mrs. Gandhi, just back from a six-nation tour, said she had urged world leaders to defuse the East Pakistan crisis lest it boil into war. She did not spell out how long India intended to wait for help from outside.

The prime minister spoke for 20 minutes to the 450 members of her ruling Congress party just before the five-week winter session of Parliament convened.

Warns U.S. Not to Give Up Aid Role

By LEWIS GULICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. foreign aid chief John A. Hannah says the time has come when "the American people, through the Congress, better face up to whether or not we're going to play a role in the world."

"I don't think the United States can be a drop-out," added Hannah in an interview conducted as Congress debated what to do about the foreign aid program.

The Senate voted Oct. 29 to kill the annual aid bill, then reversed itself after strong administration urging and passed a two-bill aid package last Thursday. In the House, Foreign Affairs Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan said he hopes to pass a new bill this week.

Meanwhile, legal authorization for the aid-administering Agency for International Development is slated to expire tonight. Administration and congressional statements differ over how soon AID's thousands of employees here and abroad would have to go payless in the absence of new legislation.

Dr. Hannah, former Michigan State University president who has headed AID since early in the Nixon administration, said both the economic and the defense-related aid in the administration's $3.4-billion request are in the American interest.

On foreign economic assistance, he said: "I'm convinced that the first interest for most Americans is what's my city or my state going to be like for my children and my grandchildren?"

Makes Appeal in Desegregation Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Norman Warnock, attorney for the Watson Chapel School Board, said Saturday the district's appeal of a desegregation suit will be heard by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Warnock, in behalf of the district, is appealing a court-ordered Department of Health, Education and Welfare desegregation plan.

Warnock also is questioning the legality of holding members of the district's school board in contempt and U.S. District Judge Owen Harris' order prohibiting him from making public statements concerning the desegregation suit.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Harris' ruling Aug. 11.

Phase 2 Picture Still Unclear, Council May Rescind Auto Increase

Plenty of Doubt Now on Value of Freeze

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — We must all make sacrifices for the good of the economy, we were told back in August, and with what appeared to be a sense of comradeship in a crisis, almost everyone agreed.

Now, two months later, rituals of the sacrifice have been proclaimed and the reactions range widely, from disappointment to rage, and with elements of surprise, jealousy, fear and doubt—but not enthusiasm.

Looking back, it is possible to discern some of the motives that gave President Nixon his original support.

Labor, for example, felt that inflation was depriving it of its fair financial share and felt that federal intervention might benefit it by correcting an imbalance. And business too felt it was being battered in the market place because of unrest-rained labor demands and now would obtain justice.

But the result of the deliberations by the Pay Board and the Price Commission for Phase 2, look unexpectedly firm and restrictive to both labor and management, and both now seem to feel that they have been baited into a lobster trap and that they might be the sacrifice.

This feeling is tempered by considerable doubt on three scores—the first concerns their understanding of the details spelled out during the past week, the second relates to the appropriateness of the formula, the third relates to the ability of the government to enforce the details.

The formula of 5.5 per cent wage increases and 2.5 per cent price increases has never been tried and there is no assurance it is correct.

There is some concern about the way the percentages relate to productivity increases, for example.

If productivity increases the economic cake gets bigger and then labor, business and government all can take a bigger slice. If the cake remains the same, no element of the economy can take a bigger slice except at the expense of another.

Decision on Teacher Pay Likely Tues.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Phase 2 of President Nixon's anti-inflation program barely under way, the Cost of Living Council called a session today to decide whether to rescind a last-minute exemption allowing car prices to go up without advance notice.

The council said Friday that companies required under Phase 2 regulation to clear price increases in advance with the government could boost prices without notice to cover the cost of wage increases due their workers between now and the first of the year.

But Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. urged the council Saturday to reconsider.

Grayson also predicted that any adverse affect that uncertainty over Phase 2, which began Sunday, has had on the stock market would clear up by the end of the week.

Pay Board Chairman George H. Boldt, appearing Sunday with Grayson on the CBS interview program "Face the Nation," said the board will meet Tuesday to decide whether teachers and other groups may collect retroactively pay raises frozen during the wage-price freeze period that expired Saturday night.

But Boldt declined to predict what the board would decide. "We're going to consider it," he said. "There's a chance of anything, of course."

The board already has ruled against allowing general retroactive pay raises, but has agreed to consider individual cases on their merits.

Grayson promised Saturday that, if the Cost of Living Council approves his request to rescind its earlier ruling, the Price Commission would change its regulations to "assure that these requested price increases are reviewed within 72 hours."

He said Sunday that the 72-hour limit would apply to all price-increase notifications, not just those that would be exempt under the Cost of Living Council's ruling.

Under present regulations, companies with annual sales of $100 million or more must report proposed price increases to the government in advance. Such increases may go into effect within 30 days after notification if no ruling has been made.

Smaller companies may raise prices without notice, but can be ordered to rescind them if the government decides the increases were too large.

Gives Painting to Family of Shooting Victim

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — An Arizona woman has donated a painting to the family of one of two employees of a Springdale grocery store who were fatally shot in a robbery at the store.

Mrs. Mackie Mahmeister of Holbrook, Ariz., has given the painting to start a fund-raising drive for the family of Gene Franco, 23, who was killed June 18 following the robbery of the Springdale Safeway Store.

Franco's widow, Joanne, 23, has one son, Geno, 4, and is expecting her second child in February.

Mrs. Mahmeister has donated the painting and has stipulated that it will be given to the person who contributes the most to the fund.

Daniel Lon Graham, 31, formerly of Springdale, was sentenced to death Friday in Circuit Court in Fayetteville for the slayings.

Miners Balk at Contract by Union, Owners

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)

Thousands of miners refused to enter the pits today despite union and management agreement on a new three-year contract designed to end the long coal strike since 1949.

Spot checks at major mines in West Virginia and the soft coal district of Western Pennsylvania showed no mines operating.

Reports on how many miners, if any, were returning to work in the 18 other states affected by the long walkout were not immediately available.

Miners who remained off the job said they would not resume work until they hear details of a new pact signed by negotiators for the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association in New York early Sunday. The industry says the pact will boost production costs $1.2 billion a year.

"One more day ain't going to kill us now that we've been off 44 days," Bill Martin, president of UMW Local 6149 at Amigo,

W. Va., said Sunday night.

Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr., who helped negotiate the new contract, admitted its pay increase provisions were out of line with the federal Pay Board's guidelines of pay boosts of 5.5 per cent, but he said he was optimistic the miners will get what the contract calls for.

Moore said he will personally seek approval by the Pay Board.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the industry association, said the pact would increase operators' labor costs by 39 per cent.

UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle pegged the increase at 30 per cent. He described the pay increase as non-inflationary and said miners were "entitled to these catch-up provisions."

The pay provision, Moore said, calls for an increase of $13 a day, to $50, for mechanics, electricians and heavy equipment operators over the life of the contract. Other miners would go to $46 a day, a $9 daily increase.

Murder-Suicide Attempt to be Investigated

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Police Chief Craig Holt of Bentonville said an investigation is to continue today into the apparent murder-suicide attempt of a Bentonville couple Sunday.

Holt said police were called to the couple's home early Sunday morning.

He said the woman was found lying in the living room of the home after apparently being hit on the head with a hatchet. Holt said the man was found in the bathroom with his throat slashed.

Police were called to the home by the couple's 15-year-old daughter.

The police chief said both were taken to the hospital and were expected to live.

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — A 27-year-old Calgary man who hijacked an Air Canada jetliner Friday night has been charged with "interfering with transportation facilities."

The young man, Paul Cini, was reported in satisfactory condition in a Calgary hospital with a concussion and two-inch gash in his head.

Cini, described by the plane's pilot as "completely deranged and bent on self-destruction," was arrested early Saturday, 7½ hours after he boarded a Vancouver-to-Toronto flight during a stop in Calgary and forced it to shuttle back and forth over the U.S.-Canadian border.

Armed with a shotgun and a package which he said contained dynamite, he threatened to blow up the airliner unless he was given $1.5 million in ransom and flown to Ireland. He claimed to be a member of the Irish Republican Army.

The plane set down twice in Great Falls, Mont., 270 miles to the southeast, once to give

Six Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six persons lost their lives on Arkansas' highways this past weekend.

Two double-fatality accidents Friday night were responsible for pushing the death toll upward. State Police said that in the other two deaths the accidents occurred when smoke from grass fires hampered vision on two of Arkansas' highways.

The Associated Press weekend highway fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims were identified as:

—Mrs. T. N. Hicks, 91, of Memphis, Tenn., who was killed Sunday afternoon on U.S. 79 near Hughes when the car in which she was riding was struck from the rear by a pickup truck.

—Johnnie Johnson, 57, of Marvel, who was killed Saturday afternoon in a head-on collision between two cars south of Marvel.

—Mrs. Brenda Palmer, 26, and Jimmy Scott Palmer, 2, both of Pottsville were killed in a two-vehicle accident on Arkansas 9 Friday night near Oppello (Conway County).

—Harold Nottingham Jr., 27, of near Fouke and Doyle Hickson, 22, of Garland City (Miller County) were killed on U.S. 82 near Garland City Friday night when their car hit a tractor-trailer truck.

Police said later they detained Cini's package in a trench at the Calgary airport without opening it.

Rules Error in Case of Malpractice

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that Circuit Court Judge Tom F. Digby of Little Rock erred when he limited to factual issues a plaintiff's discovery deposition in a malpractice case.

The unanimous opinion came in an appeal filed by Richard W. Rickett Jr., who had filed a malpractice suit against Dr. Harry Hayes, a plastic surgeon of Little Rock.

Rickett's lawyers attempted to take a deposition not only on factual matters, but also on the expert opinion of Dr. James Stuckey of Little Rock, who was to testify as an expert witness for Hayes.

Rickett suffered a broken jaw on July 1, 1966 and the suit stemmed from treatment given him by Hayes. At issue was whether Hayes had met the standard of treatment of the Little Rock area or a similar locality. Stuckey was, aside from Hayes, the only plastic surgeon in the area and, consequently, the only source of opinion as to the standard of treatment Hayes was expected to meet.

Before the trial began, lawyers for Rickett objected to the limitation Digby had placed on the deposition they had taken from Stuckey. They argued that the restriction had prevented them from knowing in advance what opinion Stuckey had and, therefore, made them unable to effectively cross examine him when he testified.

While the trial judge has a wide latitude of discretion in such matters, Rickett contended on appeal that because of the limited amount of expert opinion in the Little Rock area on this matter, Digby's order abused the trial judge's discretion.

Associate Justice John A. Fogleman, who wrote the Supreme Court opinion, agreed saying, "There is perhaps no case in which the result of the trial on the ultimate issue depends more on the testimony of expert witnesses than a malpractice case."

"When the duty of the physician or surgeon in the application of skill and learning ordinarily used in the same medical field in the locality in which he practices is not within the realm of common knowledge, and there is any dispute as to propriety of the method utilized, the critical issue as to liability depends entirely on expert testimony," Fogleman wrote.

"Thus, in a situation where it might be calculated that the particular expert's testimony would carry considerable weight, appellant's attorneys may well have been severely handicapped as he claimed on the threshold of the trial, in conducting a cross-examination of this witness, which might be the only effective means of minimizing the weight to be given to his testimony by the jury," the Supreme Court said. "Because of this, the trial court's order was unduly restrictive."

Officers said Eaton, who was being held in jail on a burglary and grand larceny charge, cut his way out of the jail with a hacksaw blade that apparently had been smuggled into his cell.

Escapee Caught Near Marshall

MARSHALL, Ark. (AP) — Billy Gene Eaton, 23, escaped early Sunday from the Searcy County Jail here, but was arrested a short time later as he was hitch-hiking on U.S. 65 north of here.

Officers said Eaton, who was being held in jail on a burglary and grand larceny charge, cut his way out of the jail with a hacksaw blade that apparently had been smuggled into his cell.

Work Resumed on Tax Cut Measure

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today 59 to 24 to liberalize a child care tax deduction for couples who both work and have children 14 and under.

It added to the $19.5-billion tax reduction bill an amendment of Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., which would make the full deduction available to couples with joint incomes up to $18,000.

As the bill came to the floor, the limit for such couples was joint incomes of up to $12,000.

The amendment would add about $100 million to the previously estimated $250 million cost of the provision.

Under the provision, single adults such as widows and divorced persons and couples with the income limits could deduct up to $4,800 per year of child care and domestic help expenses.

Tunney contended the $12,000 limit was not high enough because few couples in this bracket could afford to pay large sums for child care.

Senate leaders are driving for a vote on the bill by Wednesday.

The biggest obstacle to that goal could be a Democratic proposal for federal financing of presidential campaigns, which could be expected to touch off a bitter battle between money-starved Democrats and well-financed Republicans.

But the Democratic leadership isn't sure that rider will be offered.

Another fight could develop over various proposals to add to the tax bill riders increasing Social Security benefits.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the legislation, said every effort will be made to keep such riders off the bill, since Social Security will be considered later in connection with the House-passed welfare-reform bill.

Long said, however, that a presidential campaign-financing rider is being prepared along the lines of one he sponsored in 1966. He said a decision will be reached early in the week on whether the amendment will be offered.

It was understood the provision might guarantee each major party's presidential nominee $18 million in a national election and a third-party contender $6 million.

The money could be raised by allowing each taxpayer to indicate on his tax return that $1 of his payment should be used for the campaign-financing fund.

Long got a similar plan enacted in 1966 with the strong backing of then-President Lyndon B. Johnson. But a coalition of Republicans and a few Democrats succeeded in nullifying it in 1967 after a Senate floor battle lasting six weeks.

Long said every effort will be made to keep such riders off

Court Acts to Protect Rail Workers

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court acted today to protect railroad workers swept up in mergers by giving the Interstate Commerce Commission broad authority to look after them.

The commission didn't want that power, but the 4 to 3 ruling, written by Justice William O. Douglas, said federal law and Supreme Court interpretation require that the ICC exercise it to protect rail workers.

Justice Harry A. Blackmun, speaking for three dissenters, suggested the majority had acted out of sympathy for railroad workers and in doing so had overridden Congress.

The decision involved 25 workers on the Sandusky Line, which was acquired from the Pennsylvania Railroad System in 1964 by the Norfolk and Western Railway.

The Commission has consistently followed policy of refusing to fasten worker-protection clauses on merger agreements between carriers and rail unions. In the case at hand, the Norfolk and Western and a local of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen decided in 1965 to give the workers substantially lower pay than had been agreed upon in 1962.

Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold and the Interstate Commerce Commission told the court that the ICC was not required under the Interstate Commerce Act of 1940 to review the agreement reached by the railroad and the union. They said that Congress strongly favored having labor differences settled through collective bargaining rather than having court impose settlements on labor and management.

Questions on Cancer Remarks

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Will you please explain what on God's earth is the meaning of your remark, "There is some evidence that breast cancer in women is related to an infectious agent" and then, "We have no evidence of a people-to-people spread of cancer." I am not the only local reader baffled by "infectious agent" and "no people-to-people spread."

Dear Reader — I am sorry if you are confused. Doctors sometimes make the mistake of assuming their patients know more about medicine than they do and I am no exception.

Infectious agent includes viruses, bacteria and parasites, anything foreign to the body that is a living organism capable of causing disease. Some of these, like the common cold, cause diseases that are transmitted from one person to another. There are a host of contagious diseases, like tuberculosis, diphtheria and chicken pox, all spread from people to people. Other infectious diseases are not spread by people. Malaria, for example, is spread by mosquitoes. Bubonic plague infecting millions of people was spread by fleas on rats — hence, rat control. Others are spread by birds and even from a "cat scratch."

One form of hepatitis may be spread by water or food sources. Serum hepatitis is spread by blood transfusions and infected needles. It is often seen in dope addicts.

Now if it were established that breast cancer was caused by an infectious agent — like a virus — the problem would still exist as to why one person develops cancer and another doesn't. How would the virus activate the cancer?

Organisms that live with our bodies every day cause problems if the conditions are right. A virus lives in

THOSE MARRIED "BACHELORS"

Dear Helen:
How can wives expect to keep their husbands when the "single" life is made so attractive?

Over half the fellows in my husband's place of business are divorced. They live in "singles" apartments and maintain swingin' bachelor pads that naturally turn married men green with envy.

About three-fourths of the still married men have a little something going on the side. They figure it's their due.

And divorce is so EASY these days: if you wake up one morning and think "All this responsibility isn't for me," by evening you can set the wheels in motion to have your marriage dissolved. That goes for women as well as men but, if the woman has children, she isn't so apt to follow her inclinations.

I'm not really worried about my own security—yet; but with all the temptation around—girls throwing themselves at married men, conventions, persuasive high-fliers (male) who poke fun at the "faithful Fenways," the free stuff waiting at bars, etc.—how long will it be before my good faithful husband decides he's missing out on the action? —GETTING MORE WORRIED WITH EACH WRINKLE
Dear GMWWEW:

"Good, faithful husbands" may dream a bit (as do good faithful wives, right?) but if home fires keep burning extra bright, only their minds wander—usually.

Here's an added thought: if the single life were so action-packed-great, how come divorced men remarry at such a fast clip?

...And I refuse to believe that "three-fourths of all married men" have a little something going on the side. Even our free and easy modern world doesn't offer THAT much opportunity. —H.

Dear Helen:
The man I've been going with for two years was involved with an older woman. Jon lived with this 40-year-old dame before he met me, but we thought she was out of his life for good.

The other day, while he was visiting me, she moved all her stuff into his new apartment. Told the (very prim) landlady she was his wife and got away with it. Since then Jon has been staying at my place as he doesn't know how to face her.

What worries me is that this woman is a strong believer in Voodoo and other mystic stuff, and she has Jon scared, too. He may be enticed back against his will—and who knows what will happen to me, if she starts sticking pins in my image?

Is there some way we can safely get rid of her? —SCARED (HANNAH AND JON)

Dear Hannah and Jon:
What you're asking is "how to undo Voodoo." That's easy: simply don't believe in it! "Hexes" only work because the victim's imagination produces symptoms, so forget all that magic mumbo jumbo and tell the lady to leave.

If she won't go peacefully, I'm quite sure Jon's landlady will persuade her—after she discovers there is no marriage certificate. —H.

Dear Helen:
I'm 63, alone, with only one close relative, my brother who is 10 years younger. He lives 600 miles away and is constantly calling me on the phone—only to deal out abuse. If I tell him I'm not well and can't take his meanness, he curses me.

He misconstrues everything I write in my letters, then calls to tell me how worthless I am. He's constantly bringing up old unpleasantness—what happened when we were children, and how our parents always favored me (as if that were my fault!). He left home 30 years ago, and never once helped with the old folks—I stayed home and cared for them until they passed on. He and his wife visit me once a year and he picks at every little thing until I'm a nervous wreck by the time they leave.

BOTTLE CLUBS—emphasizing not the contents but the empties—are a growing special interest among collectors these days. There are some 300,000 bottle specialists by current estimate with greatest interest in "figural," fanciful sculptures in glass that can become investments. Dating back to the turn of the century and continuing up to the present, they have been issued by liquor companies in limited editions with the molds then broken. Two classics, from the collection of Ed Schwartz of Yonkers, N.Y., are the 1962 ship commemorating the maiden Atlantic voyage of the SS France and an antique car.

He has a good life—grown children, an executive position. There's no reason for his bad temper. It's as if he enjoys making me cry.

Yet, he's all the family I have, and still my "little brother." Friends say to hang up on him. Is this the only way? —OLDER SISTER

Dear Sister:
It's the only way—unless you subconsciously want to be a long-distance punching bag. A woman who has expended most of her life on her family may be programmed to "take it" the rest of her life, so a break won't be easy. But it also may not be permanent: when your brother realizes you'll only listen if he's civil, he might change his tune. —H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The television networks were busy Sunday night refighting World War II.

CBS began hostilities early with a three-year-old Italian movie about the landing at Anzio. ABC came along a half-hour later with "The Longest Day," a nine-year-old semi-documentary about the 1944 allied invasion of Normandy. The latter preempted all of ABC's regular programming for the evening and unofficially kicked off the three networks' pre-holiday flurry of specials.

The viewing public has been given its usual two months with few preemptions for entertainment specials in which to develop its viewing habits. Now, during the shopping period leading to Christmas, there will be some 20 special programs on the networks.

NBC tonight will present three in a row—"The Snow Goose," based on a Paul Gallico story, with Richard Harris; "Dames at Sea," adapted from an off-Broadway musical comedy, with Ann-Margret, and "Festival at Ford's," a variety hour from the historic theatre in Washington with, among others, Bob Hope and Carol Channing.

CBS on Sunday afternoon presented an animated cartoon feature for children which was based on the legend of Robin Hood. It was harmless enough, and the familiar characters—Robin, Maid Marion, the merry men and the sheriff of Nottingham—were worked into the story. The animation, however, was primitive and neither the characters nor the story had much charm or imagination.

Archie Bunker showed his worst side in Saturday night's episode of "All in the Family" on CBS. Archie had a chance to grab a quick $35,000 by selling his old house to a "blockbuster." Nothing including pleas from his son-in-law and the black handyman could dissuade him.

The episode, played for comedy and against the disconcerting whoops of laughter from the studio audience, was actually a lucid explanation of sharp practice—a way of overcharging ethnic minorities in need of decent housing. It was cleverly written and made its point—Archie came out looking venal, greedy and gullible.

Butkus Turns Tide for Chicago

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I never scored on a screwier play," Chicago's Dick Butkus exulted. It was but one play in a slightly screwy day that did all sorts of strange things to the National Football League standings.

The Bears' big linebacker, usually the recipient of plaudits for his defensive brilliance, found himself the offensive hero of Sunday's 16-15 victory over Washington when he grabbed a desperation Bobby Douglass pass on a broken point-after-touchdown play.

Cyril Pinder had burst up the middle for a 40-yard scoring scamper that knotted the game early in the fourth quarter. But the snap back to Douglass on the attempted conversion by Mac Percival squirted away and Douglass scooped it up on the run at Washington's 30-yard line.

"When I saw Douglass scrambling around I went down looking for a pass," said Butkus, eligible since he was a backfield blocker on the conversion play. His wild waving caught Douglass' eye, then Butkus caught the wobbling pass that won the game.

Pinder's run provided the game's only touchdown as the Bears and Redskins scored the rest of their points on an NFL record-tying eight field goals, three by Percival of 9, 15 and 42 yards and five by Washington's Curt Knight, from 30, 12, 37, 9 and 27 yards out.

The outcome kept the surprising Bears within a game of first-place Minnesota in the National Conference's Central Division and sliced the Skins' lead over Dallas in the East to one-half game. One game is the largest margin any division leader holds with five weekends of action yet to come.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) game, St. Louis visits San Diego.

Petty Clinches Title in Stock Car Race

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Richard Petty clinched his third Grand National title Sunday as he outraced Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., to win the twice-postponed Capital City 500 NASCAR late model stock car race at the Fairgrounds Speedway.

Petty in his '71 Plymouth won $4,450 for his first-place finish, boosting his season earnings to $274,180 and virtually assuring him of becoming the first NASCAR driver ever to hit the $300,000 mark in a single season.

Invitations to Bowls Saturday

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the week that was as far as the college football bowls are concerned ... but they wish it wasn't.

Decisions, decisions, decisions will be the order of the day as the bowl committees to-day meet to decide whether to extend their invitations come 6 p.m. Saturday.

The biggest decisions must be made by the Orange and Sugar Bowls, which undoubtedly will have to issue their invitations on Saturday without waiting for the outcome of the Nebraska-Oklahoma clash Thanksgiving Day or the Alabama-Auburn battle two days later. All four are unbeaten.

The most popular theory is that the Orange Bowl, which prides itself on inviting the highest ranking teams possible, will bid for top-rated Nebraska and fourth-ranked Alabama. If they accept, it would leave runner-up Oklahoma and No. 6 Auburn for the Sugar Bowl ... or No. 5 and equally unbeaten Penn State or No. 8 and once-beaten Notre Dame.

"We are going to have to pick two teams and then spend a lot of sleepless nights hoping," says an Orange Bowl spokesman. "I'm almost 100 per cent sure we will have to invite two teams Saturday. The coaches want it that way, too."

As a result, one bowl could have two winners and what could turn out to be a national championship game. The other bowl then would be stuck with two losers. But if the guessing game pairs a winner against a loser, the hue and cry for a national playoff will be louder than ever.

The contenders, except for No. 7 Georgia, maintained their winning pace over the weekend. Nebraska whipped Kansas State 44-17 as Jerry Tagge passed for 285 yards and three touchdowns and Johnny Rodgers caught 10 passes for 125 yards.

Oklahoma piled up 502 yards on the ground in routing Kansas 56-10 and set a national one-season ground-gaining mark of 4,333 yards ... with two games left. Third-ranked Michigan didn't have to be invited anywhere. The Wolverines nailed down the Big Ten crown and automatic Rose Bowl berth with a 20-17 squeaker over Purdue on Dana Coin's 25-yard field goal with 43 seconds left.

Alabama, even with Johnny Musso sidelined, cruised past Miami of Florida 31-3 as Wilbur Jackson, Steve Biscaglia and David Knapp subbed effectively for Musso, Ellis Beck and Joe LaBue. Penn State's Lydell Mitchell scored four touchdowns for an NCAA record of 25 this season as the Nittany Lions turned back stubborn North Carolina State 35-3. Three of Mitchell's tallies came in little more than four minutes of the final period.

Auburn used Pat Sullivan's 248 yards and four touchdown passes to oust Georgia from the unbeaten ranks and the Southeastern Conference race 35-20. Terry Beasley and Dick Schmalz each caught two scoring tosses.

Notre Dame defeated Tulane 21-7 behind improving sophomore quarterback Cliff Brown.

Ninth-ranked Arizona State erupted for seven touchdowns in the second half and buried Wyoming 52-19 but No. 10 Stanford lost for the third time to a decided underdog, bowing to San Jose State 13-12. The Indians had already clinched the Pacific-8 Rose Bowl spot while Arizona State captured the role of host in the inaugural Fiesta Bowl to be played in the Sun Devils' own stadium.

Tennessee, No. 11, had the weekend off but No. 12 Colorado, loser only to Nebraska and Oklahoma, spruced up its own bowl attractiveness with a 40-6 rout of Oklahoma State as super soph Charlie Davis ran for 342 yards, only eight shy of the national record.

Texas, ranked 13th, moved a step closer to its fourth straight Cotton Bowl trip by trimming Texas Christian 31-0. The Longhorns dedicated the game to Jim Pittman, a long-time assistant to Darrell Royal and the TCU coach who collapsed and died during a game two weeks ago.

No. 14 Toledo ripped Marshall 43-0 for its 33rd victory in a row and No. 15 Southern California edged No. 19 Washington 13-12. Northwestern upset No. 16 Ohio State 14-10, handing the once-mighty Buckeyes their third home defeat of the campaign. Arkansas, No. 18, struggled past Southern Methodist 18-13 while No. 19 Houston crushed Virginia Tech 56-29 and No. 20 Louisiana State bounced back from a pair of setbacks to top Mississippi State 28-3.

Dartmouth, which had its own unbeaten mark snapped a week ago, did the same to Cornell 24-14 and tied the Big Red for the Ivy League lead.

Memphis State captured the Missouri Valley Conference flag and a spot in the Pasadena Bowl with a 47-8 lacing of North Texas State. And Army and Navy prepared for their annual war in two weeks with identical 17-14 victories over Pitt and Syracuse, respectively.

Riva Ridge Runs Away with Prize at Garden State

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Jockey Ron Turcotte says Meadow Stable's Riva Ridge wasn't at his best Saturday when the colt won the $293,890 Garden State Stakes with ease.

If the 2-year-old son of First Landing wasn't at his best, he could have fooled the crowd of 32,099 at Garden State Park. He won as he pleased, virtually clinching the 1971 juvenile championship.

"That's what I mean," Turcotte explained. "He doesn't really do more than he has to. He's a free runner and always performs so good that I don't know if this was his strongest race or not."

Riva Ridge, the even-money favorite in the 1 1/16 mile race for 2-year-olds, won by 2 1/2 lengths over Freehex, a 52-1 shot owned by J.M. Stravola of Red Bank, N.J., Rokeby Stable's Key to the Mint was third and Numbered Account fourth.

Riva Ridge's victory means the race now has been won by grandfather, father and son. Grand-to win the first Garden State in 1953 and his son, First Landing, won it in 1958.

Riva Ridge is the son of First Landing.

Ford Joins in Car Price Increase

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has hiked the prices of its domestically produced Pinto and the imported Capri, ending the era of the U.S.-built auto with a price tag of less than $2,000.

Increases on the Pinto line average $94, while the German-built Capri will go up $119. The price boosts have government approval.

The new price tags put the basic Pinto at $2,028, compared with $2,090 for the Chevrolet Vega and $2,040 for American Motors' Gremlin, the other subcompact cars built by U.S. firms.

The suggested list price for Volkswagen's best-seller, the Super Beetle, is $2,278.

A Ford spokesman said Saturday that price increases for the rest of the Ford line are in the offing.

The other U.S. auto firms—General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors—are expected to follow suit.

Ford announced a $150 increase on the two Pinto models last July just before the 1972 models were to make their debut, but that price hike was rolled back at the time of the government price freeze Aug. 15.

Ford went to the Cost of Living Council and asked for permission to raise Pinto prices, contending that the firm had made substantial sales prior to Aug. 15 as required under the Office of Emergency Preparedness guidelines. The council agreed and granted Ford price relief on the Pinto line.

The Capri, built by Ford of Germany for distribution by Lincoln-Mercury dealers, will now carry a list price of $2,730.

"The Capri price is being increased to offset part of the effect of the change in value of the German mark," Ford said.

It was the second boost this month for Capri. The last price hike was $100 on Nov. 1.

Appoints Staff to Interpret Phase 2 Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fred W. Johnson, district Internal Revenue Service director for Arkansas, said Sunday he has appointed William K. Estes to his staff as a full-time economic stabilization manager.

He said Estes will have two persons working with him initially, but could eventually have a staff of 21 persons.

Johnson said that the major function of the staff will be to interpret wage and price guidelines issued by the Cost of Living Council, the Price Commission and the Pay Board as they apply to individual situations.

He said that after investigating requests for waivers, the staff will make rulings on individual cases. If the applicant is not satisfied with the ruling, Johnson said, appeal can be made to the IRS office in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mailbag Bulletins—Japanese Are Paving Streets With Plastic

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Japan has found a new way to solve a pollution problem—turning discarded plastic bottles into streets. The bottles are crushed, melted and then blended with other substances to make a street paving material.

What makes civilization so dangerous to the young? Accidents mostly. They are the leading cause of death among all persons from 1 to 37 years old. Accidents claim more lives among children aged 1 to 14 than the six leading diseases combined. Among youths from 15 to 24 the toll from accidents is greater than from all other causes combined.

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Every time jockey Willie Shoemaker wins another race he sets a world record.

Shoemaker won his 6,203rd race in his 22-year career when he piloted Royal Owl to a length-and-a-half victory Saturday at Bay Meadows for his 44th stakes victory of the season, breaking Bill Hartack's record of 43 set in 1957.

It was his 546th stakes triumph and left him eight behind Eddie Arcaro's 554 lifetime added-money event total.

Director of TB Sanatorium Resigns

BOONEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Walter D. Jones has resigned as medical director of the state Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Booneville.

Jones, in a letter of resignation to W. L. Fulmer, superintendent of the Booneville facility, said he was resigning effective Dec. 15 because of the "unstable future" of the sanatorium.

Jones said he would move to Fort Smith and become associated with a group of doctors in an endeavor which he said must remain confidential at this time. Fulmer said Jones was quitting because "they are trying to squeeze us out."

He was referring to a group of medical officials who are seeking to close the tuberculosis facility and let the patients be cared for in general hospitals. Fulmer and others have been resisting the move.

The sanatorium has 143 licensed beds with 98 patients, all being treated for tuberculosis, Fulmer said.

In his letter of resignation, Jones said that he could not see much future in staying with the sanatorium in view of the controversy over its eventual role in the treatment of respiratory diseases.

Conway Bus Firm Charged with Price Fixing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A suit filed Friday in U.S. District Court here charges that Ward School Bus Manufacturing Co. of Conway, Ark., and 10 other school bus firms engaged in price fixing.

The state of Georgia seeks $15 million in damages in the suit.

The Conway firm and River Trailer and Equipment Inc., of Jacksonville, Fla., were cited in the suit for agreeing to refrain from actual competition with other defendants for school bus body contracts in Georgia.

Among the companies charged in the suit was the Blue Bird Body Co., a Georgia corporation operating in Fort Valley, Ga., which built more than 50 per cent of the school bus bodies now in use in the state.

The 11 companies named in the suit were located in seven states.

Gov. Jimmy Carter said the suit followed investigations by both the Georgia attorney general's office and a legislative committee studying school costs.

Helicopters Collide, 10 Killed

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. helicopters collided in the air today, another one crashed after a mechanical failure, and a South Vietnamese chopper hit a mine as it landed and blew up. Four Americans and six South Vietnamese were reported killed, and five Americans and three South Vietnamese were injured.

The helicopters collided about 10 miles northwest of Saigon as they were returning to refuel after landing South Vietnamese troops on an operation 10 miles east of the Cambodian border.

All four crewmen aboard one of the UH1 helicopters were killed, and the four crewmen aboard the other aircraft were injured.

The U.S. Command said an investigation was being made to determine the cause of the collision. A third UH1 went down Sunday 21 miles west of Saigon after a mechanical failure, the U.S. Command reported. Three South Vietnamese troops were killed and one of the American crewmen was injured.

A total of 8,020 U.S. helicopters and planes have been reported lost in the Indochina war.

A South Vietnamese helicopter was landing infantrymen 80 miles north of Saigon and about 10 miles from the Cambodian border this morning when it hit a mine and exploded. Field reports said three South Vietnamese were killed and three were wounded.

In Cambodia, Phnom Penh's airport was closed to commercial flights after three rockets hit the airfield. The small barrage about 7 a.m. caused no damage, the Cambodian command said, but a second salvo of three rockets at 10:30 a.m. set the home of a civilian worker afire and wounded a Cambodian airman.

Among the flights canceled was a U.S. Air Force cargo plane coming to pick up an elephant given by Premier Lon Nol to Adm. John S. McCain Jr., the U.S. commander in chief for the Pacific. McCain is giving the animal to the Los Angeles Zoo.

It was the third time in a week that the airport had been shelled. In one attack on Nov. 10 more than 30 persons were killed and nine aircraft were destroyed or damaged.

Cancer Foes Apart on Some Issues

By CARL CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cancer's enemies, unanimously calling for a war on the killer disease but poles apart on where to locate their command post, are carrying their organizational dispute to the House floor.

Chairman Paul G. Rogers, D-Ma., of the House public health subcommittee said he was confident that he could collect the two-thirds majority vote needed to suspend House rules and pass his $1.6 billion bill today.

"It would make available to the director of the National Cancer Institute the new authorities, increased autonomy, higher funding levels, and streamlined procedures deemed necessary to transform the present cancer efforts into a coordinated, all-out national cancer attack program," Rogers said.

"It would retain the nation's cancer research effort as an integral part of the biomedical research programs of the National Institutes of Health," Rogers added in his report to the House, "and it would facilitate direct program overview by the President ... so that the program at all times may reflect the President's personal interest and commitment."

The Rogers bill was put forth as a substitute for a cancer-attack measure that had passed the Senate earlier this year by 79 to 1. The Nixon administration and the American Cancer Society endorsed the organizational approach in the Senate bill.

Reps. Robert O. Tierman, D-R.I., and Brock Adams, D-Wash., in eleven-hour letters to colleagues urging a vote against the rules-suspension move, sought a chance to run the bill through normal channels that would allow amendments. They favor making the Senate bill a substitute for the Rogers measure.

Rogers' move was an attempt to bypass the Rules Committee and speed action on President Nixon's plea for an all-out war on cancer. The rules-suspension route usually is reserved for

Butz Severing Ties in Business But Senate Critics Not Satisfied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl L. Butz, secretary-designate of agriculture, says he is severing his ties with business, but his decision failed to mollify Senate critics.

Opposition to Senate confirmation of Butz developed around charges that he favors big business over the family farmer, and that his directorships with the four companies might represent conflicts of interest.

Butz agreed that retaining the directorships would create potential conflicts, and said in an interview Sunday night he is resigning all business connections and placing his stocks in a blind trust. He labeled his critics' charges as "political statements."

Butz, 62, of Lafayette, Ind., said he has notified the Ralston Purina Co., International Minerals and Chemicals Co., Stokeley Van-Camp Co. and the Standard Life Insurance Co. of Indiana he is resigning from their boards. Written resignations will be submitted in a few days, he said.

His position on the board of the J.I. Case Co., a farm-equipment manufacturer, was terminated about a year ago when the firm merged with Tenneco Corp., he said.

"That's not enough," said

Vote Tuesday on $71 Billion Arms Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $71-billion military appropriations bill moving to a House vote Tuesday gives congressmen something new to puzzle: The courts have ruled that a vote for the money is a vote for the war.

This could cause trouble for some lawmakers with a record of voting appropriations for soldiers already in the field while disagreeing with presidential actions that put them there.

The attack against this defense is being pushed by anti-war lawyers who say their latest defeat in the fight for a court test of the legality of the Vietnam war may have come out half-victory.

The U.S. 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals in New York held last April 20 that voting for appropriations to conduct the war and a draft to man it is the constitutional equivalent of a declaration of war.

On Oct. 12 the Supreme Court declined to review the case and thus let the New York court's interpretation stand as the highest law of the land.

"No longer can a senator or congressman duck the issue," said John Wells, the Unitarian minister-lawyer who started these legal battles. "He can't vote for appropriations and say he is against the war. If he votes for appropriations, he votes for the war."

Congressional managers of appropriations bills, attempting to assuage doves, have contended appropriations are not the same as a declaration of war.

The late Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., as chairman of the Armed Services Committee, contended votes on military spending "could not properly be considered as determining foreign policy, as ratifying decisions made in the past or as endorsing new commitments."

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., who succeeded Russell as chairman, has used the same line. When the 2nd Circuit said otherwise last spring, Stennis said that court "is not the highest court in the land." Stennis now says he is restudying the situation in light of the Supreme Court action and is not ready to comment.

Even Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., one of the first to oppose the war, once explained support of appropriations bills as "feeling an obligation to provide full support to the young Americans who have been dispatched to Vietnam, while at the same time believing that they should be brought home."

But Wells, who authored a Massachusetts law challenging the constitutionality of the war, holds that in light of the New York case, "It is no longer legally possible to be against the war and to vote for military appropriations."

They Leave Home for Unwed Mothers With a Different Outlook

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "I feel 150 years old," said Sherry. "This has made a much bigger person of me. Hopefully, I will leave here a woman instead of a girl."

She sat in one of the visiting rooms of the Florence Crittenden Home for unwed mothers, obviously 6 months pregnant.

She looked forward to seeing her mother and two friends who were due for a visit. It means a night away from the institution, the privacy of a motel's bathroom and talk of home.

For the first three months of her pregnancy, Sherry said she avoided the situation entirely. Hoping, as state Welfare Department caseworkers say all unwed mothers, do, that the situation will go away.

She breezed through her finals at school where she is a psychology major, making all A's on her tests.

But during that period, Sherry came to the conclusion that she did not want to marry the father of her child. In fact, she did not even tell him she was pregnant because he would have not stopped "bugging me."

"If he knew I was here he'd never leave me alone," Sherry said.

Sherry is not her real name. All the girls at the home, which can accommodate 35, use aliases. Sherry is petite, with large hazel eyes and her hair cut in the "shag" style. She is from out of state, which assures her she will not run into anyone she knows while at the home. Here, Sherry can quietly wait out her pregnancy in time to be home for Christmas. She said she wants to make plans for her future, but said she would wait a while to get married.

She also does not want to spend any more of her parents' money than she has to.

The cost of care at the home is charged the girl according to her ability to pay.

Sherry said the charge for the care is "money spent uselessly — money that should not be spent." She said she soon would be 21 and it was time for her to be more independent.

While she has been at the home there has been some soul-searching.

"I've never been in a situation that is so futile. I've always wanted children and now I have to give mine up. It's frustrating," she said.

"The only consolation to the whole deal is that practically anybody has more to offer my baby than I do," she said.

She said she briefly considered abortion, but Sherry is Catholic and decided against taking that step. She also considered not telling her parents, but she knew that she would have to explain the situation somehow.

Sherry said her parents "just don't deserve" the problem she presented them. Later, she said her mother wrote her at the home and said they "respected" her for doing what she thought was right in going to the home.

Sherry said some of the girls at the home said they will use birth control methods after they leave the home, but Sherry frankly says she does not think that is right.

While Sherry says she is "basically insecure and has a frantic fear of being left alone" she does not intend to get into the same situation again.

The Florence Crittenden Home has been at its present location since 1903.

Miss Bobbie Smith, the executive director of the home, said that each girl is assigned certain duties. Many, she said, learn more about homemaking than they had ever known before.

The girls normally stay from five to three months. The cost for the girls who can pay is $450 for three months.

Miss Smith said she feels the need for the Florence Crittenden home operations has declined. She said that the advent of the birth control pill did not cut back the number of girls coming to the home. However, she said when abortion "opened up" in New York, there was a noticeable drop in applicants.

Miss Smith said that some of the homes in larger areas, such as Miami, Fla., have had to change to some other form of welfare and social work because their beds were empty. She said the girls were flying to New York instead of going to the home.

Miss Smith said that the home in Little Rock may also have to switch to some other line of business, such as becoming a juvenile training center.

Total Electric Heat

Slip into something comfortable.

Choose from four kinds of comfort with electric heating. Why four? Because all homes are not alike. Some electric heating systems work best in older homes, and some are ideal for new homes.

If you would like free advice on which system is best for your home, call your AP&L office and ask to speak to a Customer Service Representative.

Electric Heat Pump This system provides heating and cooling from the same unit while it filters the air clean. It's called a heat pump because it "pumps heat" in two directions—into the home for heating and out of the home for cooling.

Electric Baseboard This system fits neatly against the wall and uses little floor space. Other features of electric baseboard heat include individual temperature control in each room and no moving parts.

Electric Furnace The furnace tucks away neatly in closet space, attic or any out-of-the-way place and circulates warm, filtered air throughout the home.

Electric Wall Insert This electric heating system is inserted flush with the wall in each room so that you can heat only those rooms you're using. Each unit is controlled by its own thermostat.

WANTED!

Men & Women

Age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass. Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

For FREE booklet on Government jobs, including list of positions and salaries, fill out coupon and mail at once — TODAY!

You will also get full details on how you can prepare yourself for these tests.

Don't delay — ACT NOW!

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "The new encyclopedia of bridge is out. It is a wonderful compendium of bridge information."

Jim: "The first sample hand is under the title 'Assumptions in play.' The game is rubber bridge so South wants to be sure of his contract. He ruffs the second heart and draws trumps with two leads."

Oswald: "If West holds the ace of clubs and East the king of diamonds, South will make an overtrick. If either opponent holds both South will make his contract by leading clubs toward dummy and diamonds toward his hand."

Jim: "South should start here with his assumptions. West has opened the bidding. East has given a single raise. Between them they hold ♥AKJ ♦K ♣AJ in high cards. West must hold either the ♦K or the ♣A for his opener; East almost surely holds the other for his raise."

Oswald: "After these assumptions, South plays absolutely safe for his contract by leading a diamond toward dummy's queen. This will cost him a diamond trick if East holds the king, but then West will hold the club ace. As it is, West holds the diamond king. If he takes it, South can discard two clubs from dummy on the ace-jack of diamonds. If he ducks South will not lose a diamond."

Q—How many copies did Abraham Lincoln make of his Gettysburg Address?
A—Five handwritten copies. He made the last copy of the address in 1864, and this was the only copy he signed.

Q—Why do hunters prize the canvasback duck?
A—Canvasbacks have a fine flavor due to the fact that they like to eat wild celery, so they are much sought after.

Q—In major league baseball, when was the cork-center ball introduced?
A—In 1910.

THE BADGE GUYS

FRED GRAHAM

Fred Graham, a former Hope Rotary Club President, now living in Little Rock as a vice president of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company, spoke at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the Town and Country on Friday, November 12. Introduced by Rotarian Lloyd McMath, the speaker discussed two phases of his business of great interest to everyone: the growing shortage of gas and the rate increase in buying it.

"Ark is trying to get more gas to the people in Arkansas," he said, "and one of the best sources of gas found anywhere is in the Anadarko Basin of Oklahoma. It will take 12 months to build a pipeline to bring this gas to Arkansas and getting it here will be expensive. However, the alternative is no gas at any price."

Mr. Graham pointed out that even with an increase in the price of gas, this fuel is cheaper than other types. Also, natural gas is clean, and using it is an excellent way to combat air pollution.

In Sam W. Strong, president, welcomed the members and guests, the speaker, Lloyd McMath, in V. M. Watts of the U. of A. and a visiting Rotarian, Bob Delaney of Wheeling, West Virginia.

Rangers, Bruins Victors in NHL Game Action

By HAI, BOOK
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York's red-hot Rangers and Boston's rebounding Bruins put on a pair of spectacular shooting shows in the National Hockey League Sunday night.

The Rangers bombed 32 shots at Vancouver goalie George Gardner and clubbed the Canucks 6-1 to increase their first place margin in the NHL's East Division to three points. Boston had fewer shots, 35, but more goals, 11, beating Los Angeles 4-2.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Sunday night, Chicago tripped California 4-1, Montreal rallied for a 2-2 tie against Buffalo and Toronto tied Philadelphia 3-3.

In Saturday's games, New York ripped Buffalo 5-2, Detroit downed Philadelphia 6-3, Montreal whipped Minnesota 5-1, St. Louis defeated California 6-1, Pittsburgh took Los Angeles 4-4 and Toronto tied Vancouver 2-2.

The Rangers, who stretched their unbeaten streak to 14 games, unloaded 40 shots in the first two periods when they scored all of their goals.

Condors Lose to NY Nets in ABA Game

PITTSBURGH (AP)—High scoring and highly scored upon, the Pittsburgh Condors are playing half court basketball.

"Anytime we can get a set play we got any shot we wanted, but we played our worst defensive game of the season," declared Mark Blumstein, Condor coach and general manager, after Pittsburgh's 130-125 loss to the New York Nets in Sunday night's only American Basketball Association game.

"I just can't get five guys on the court at a time to concentrate on basketball," added Blumstein, who took over the coaching reins recently from Jack McMahon.

Rick Barry and Bill Melchioni paced the Nets with 41 and 24 points, respectively, as New York won its third in a row to move into third place in the ABA East.

The Condors, fifth in the East, lost the Nets' 69-59 half time lead to three points going into the final period.

However, Barry scored 12 points in the last quarter to lead New York to victory.

Saturday, in the ABA, it was Indiana 116, Kentucky 111, New York 117, Philadelphia 114, Charlotte 129, Virginia 109, Memphis 124, Utah 110, and Dallas 97, Denver 92.
